

Yeshiva University Undergraduate Catalog for Men 2020-2022

Established in 1987 through a major gift from Sy Syms, a member of Yeshiva University's Board of Trustees, and other business leaders, the liberal arts studies, and its curriculum leads to the Bachelor of Science degree. The curriculum covers a common body of knowledge—the business core—in addition to majors or concentrations in accounting, finance, business intelligence and marketing analytics, management, and marketing.

Jewish tradition provides the framework for consideration of ethical issues, an integral part of the student's education. All Sy Syms students simultaneously attend one of the four schools of Jewish studies at the university. Students are taught by distinguished faculty who hold positions in the research and professional communities and offer students a thorough background in the theoretical and practical aspects of business.

The Sy Syms School of Business offers business programs for men at the uptown Wilf Campus and for women at the midtown Beren campus. Students hail from a wide geographic area, both domestic and international. As a result, students have an opportunity to broaden their knowledge of a ever-growing global environment.

The Rennert Entrepreneurial Institute fosters students' entrepreneurial skills and knowledge for creating and developing a business. The institute employs an interdisciplinary approach, which uses the curriculum and faculty of the Sy Syms School. The institute received its initial funding through a generous grant from Mr. and Mrs. Ira Leon Rennert, for whom it is named.

The curriculum at Sy Syms School of Business includes general e

V. General Electives

General electives are three additional 3-credit courses in business or liberal arts (excluding HES courses or AP courses) that are not used to fulfill any other General Course requirement, Business Core requirement or requirement for the major.

VI. Jewish Studies

The Jewish Values curriculum offers practical, experiential and actionable courses to prepare students for the workplace. The curriculum covers two broad types of issues (purely-business issues, and universal issues with a business lens). There are also two domains of interaction (within the Jewish world, and between the Jewish and non-Jewish worlds). The distribution of the requirement is as follows:

JUD 2610: Jewish-World Encounters

JUD 2620: Jewish Business Law

JUD 2630: Jewish Public Policy

JUD 2640: Practical Workplace Halacha

Up to three Hebrew courses, ranging from 1010-1030, depending on placement.
Students in JSS take 1203 and 1204 instead.

All students should take Hebrew language in their first year on campus.

Students who transfer from Yeshiva College and already satisfied some Jewish studies requirements at Yeshiva College should meet with Sy Syms academic advising to discuss which remaining Jewish studies requirements they may need to satisfy at Sy Syms.

Students in the Yeshiva Program/Mazer School of Talmudic Studies and the Irving I. Stone Beit Midrash Program take these courses mostly at Yeshiva College. Students in Isaac Breuer College of Hebraic Studies and the James Striar School of General Jewish Studies satisfy these requirements with courses at those schools with some modifications, particularly for JSS students. A student in MYP or SBMP typically takes 14 credits in Jewish studies courses which appear on his Sy Syms transcript, while a student in IBC or JSS transfers a minimum of 18 HES credits (3

The mission of the Sy Syms Business Honors and Entrepreneurial Leadership Program is to enhance the educational experience of its high-achieving business students. The program stresses a culture of academic excellence coupled with a commitment to Jewish values. The program is focused on providing honors students with enhanced entrepreneurship opportunities; interaction with senior faculty; and career-changing contacts with global business leaders and executives. Specifically, the program offers high-level business courses, immersion in the liberal arts and sciences, along with entrepreneurship and internship opportunities. Sy Syms honors courses are designed to challenge students, to encourage imagination and creativity and to prepare students for exceptional career opportunities.

Requirements: Admission to the Sy Syms Business Honors and Entrepreneurial Leadership Program requires Sy Syms honors students to exhibit excellent academic achievement as well as evidence of significant entrepreneurship and leadership potential. Sy Syms honors students must maintain a GPA of 3.500 in their college courses as well as Torah studies while on campus.

All Sy Syms honors students will be required to successfully complete:

- A. Honors Business as a Human Enterprise during their first year on campus. This course will examine the varied roles of business in a democratic society. Students will study the historical purpose of business, the role of law and ethics, corporate social responsibility, business sustainability, business and technology, triple bottom line reporting, social entrepreneurship and the futu tu cia pr businesses, multi-national companies and high-tech firms, and analyze the leadership skills that their managers and employees possess. We will identify what made them successful companies, what did not and why.

- C. Honors Analytical Driven Decision Making or Honors Corporate Accountability during their third year on campus.
  - a. Honors Analytical Driven Decision Making will introduce students to the science of fact based, data driven, decision making. The course will expose students to different approaches, support tools and analytical methods for decision making; enhance students' critical thinking skills and their ability to intelligently use
